This year marks the tenth year of Greensboro Day School.
Ten years
. . . of change,
the only immutable factor,
. . . of growth,
. . . of expansion
. . . of ordinary and extraordinary experience that has made us what we are.

PROWLER '80

Dedication

Over the years, the Greensboro Day School Annual has become a bigger and bigger affair. Currently working on a budget of over $14,000, and covering nearly two hundred pages, the annual is a maze of complexity, details, and headaches. More than one editor has thought himself (or herself) totally swamped by the load and often the idea has surfaced in the pub room that the annual editors should be able to forego schoolwork and devote the entire day to the book. Coping with this stress requires patience and an iron stomach; oh, and one other thing — someone who cares. For the past six annuals, there has always been that someone. She is patient, intelligent, and deserving of far more than this printed tribute.

Doing an annual of this size would be, quite literally, impossible without her. She provides stability among chaos, humor among misery, and a shoulder to cry on when one discovers that pictures have been ruined, or a precious ad lost.

Aside from all this, she is one of the most respected and competent teachers at the Day School. Because of this respect, she can conduct her classes without need of the discipline systems used in other classrooms.

To show our gratitude to someone who is caring and kind enough to be called "Ma", calm and intelligent enough to run the annual, witty and compatible enough to be our friend, the 1980 Prowler is lovingly dedicated to Mrs. Kay Windham.

We asked several former editors of the "Prowler" for their comments and opinions about Kay Windham:

Mack Leath — not available for comment at the asylum

Claibourne Poindexter — hysterical laughter

Dusty Rumsey — "She should be shot"

Chuck Campbell — "I'll see her in court."

Jane Gorrell — "Wonderful woman, possessed of intelligence, kindness, and a sense of humor; all the truly feminine qualities."

Drew Campbell — declined comment until September

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay.

President — What does Colson want us to do?
E — He wants you to do several things. He wants you to persuade Liddy to talk.
P — Me?
E — Yes, sir. Thats his — I didn't bring my notes, but basically . . .
P — Oh last night you didn't mention that.
E — I thought I had.
P — Maybe you did, maybe you did. I would need to let — bring Liddy in and tell him to talk?
E — You can't bring him in. He's in jail.
P — Oh.

There is, in sanest hours, a consciousness, a thought rises, independent, lifted out from all else, calm, like the stars shining. This is the thought of identity -yours for you, whoever you are, as mine for me. Miracle of miracles, beyond statement, most spiritual and vaguest of earth's dreams, yet hardest basic fact, and only entrance to all facts.

Walt Whitman

Better to remain silent and be thought a fool than to speak out and remove all doubt.

I met a girl who sang the blues,
And I asked her for some happy news,
But she just smiled and turned away.
So I went down to the sacred store
Where I'd heard the music years before
And in the streets the children
screamed,
The lovers cried and the poets dreamed,
But not a word was spoken
The church bells all were broken
And the three men I admire the most
The Father, Son and Holy Ghost
they caught the last train for the coast
The day the music died.

Roads go ever, ever on
Over rock and under tree,
By caves where never sun has shone,
By streams that never find the sea;
Over snow by winter sown,
And through the merry flowers of June;
Over grass and over stone,
And under mountains in the moon.
Still round the corner there may wait
A new road or a secret gate;
And though I oft have passed them by,
A day will come at last when I
Shall take the hidden paths that run
West of the moon, East of the sun.

We grow rusty and you catch us at the very point of decadence — by this time tomorrow we might have forgotten everything we ever knew. That's a thought, isn't it? . . . We'd be back where we started — improvising.

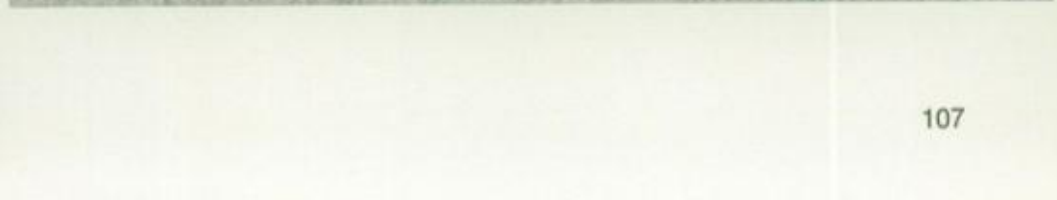
The Varsity Soccer team's record of 10-7-1 does not adequately show the high skill levels inherent in the team. The team played such powerhouse teams as Page, Bishop-McGuinness, Bollingbrook School, Forsyth, and Greenfield, and very few easy teams. Carl Fenske, has built a strong team and we look to next year and new fields.



J.V. Soccer

First row: C. Meadows, L.G. Hayes, D. Maynard, R. McGarr, T. Hoag, T. Stenersen, R. Hunt, G. Saab. Second row: Mr. Jaziri, A. Alspaugh, C. Scott, J. Hodges, N. Sharpless, D. Makepeace, R. Falk, H. McCall, S. Long. Third Row: G. Schell, N. Cowan, C. Walker, J. Preyer, C. Caffey, T. Sone, F. Hatchett.

This year's Junior Varsity Soccer team was probably the strongest team in many years. Coached by Mr. Jaziri, the team scored more than a few victories against formidable opponents. Junior Varsity has always been a training ground for Varsity players, and next year many fine players will advance to Carl Fenske's Varsity team. For JV, the emphasis has been on skill development and basic tactics, skills which will be ready for the JV and Varsity levels next season.

J.V. Tennis

Varsity Tennis

Margaret Tanner, Betsy Younce, Kristen Clonniger

This year the tennis team achieved entry into the State Tournament, winning the P.A.C.I.S. Tournament along the way. The team, coached by Mrs. Davis, ended this season sixth in the state. The team members were Margaret Tanner, Betsy Younce, Kristen Cloninger, Tristan Carter, Laura Hertzfeld, and Kim Doughten.

High And Lows

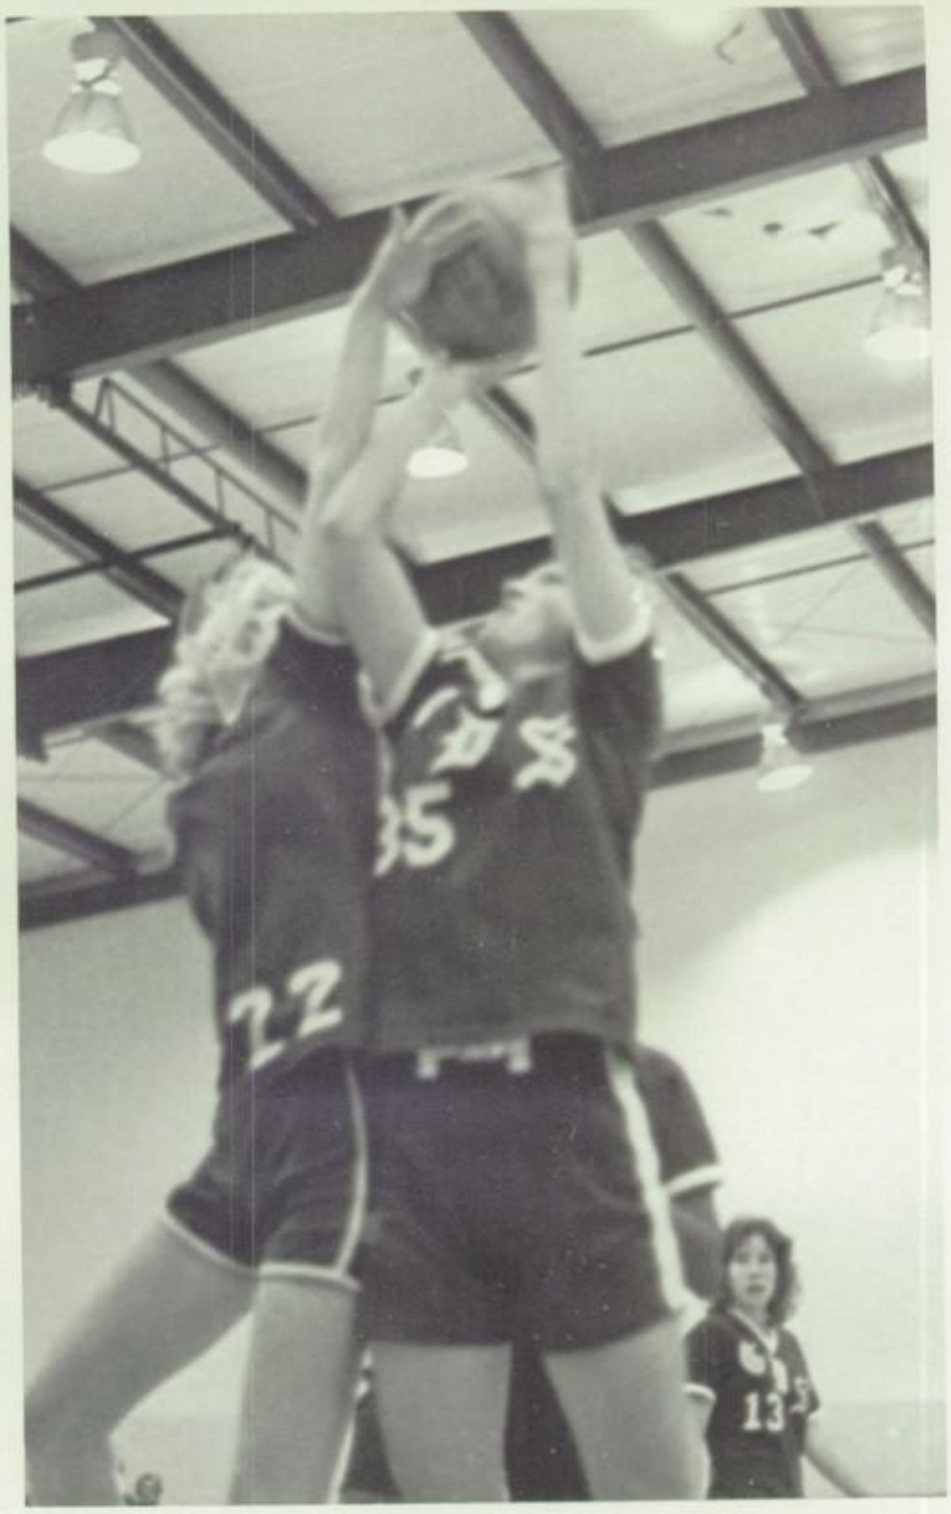
As the Varsity Basketball team entered the February P.A.C.I.S. tournament, the best description of their season might have been "highs and lows". Though the team is a fine collection of talent; notably Andy Courts, Rennie Faulkner, Peter Tannenbaum and others; they have suffered several disappointments. Age is on their side, however, as Peter Tannenbaum and Charles Cunningham are the only graduating members. Freddie Johnson and the team have great potential for the future.

Varsity Girls Basketball

1st Row: Betsy Younce, Kim Doughten, Martha Knox, Tracey Cloninger. 2nd Row: Carroll Ray, Ann Craven, Kristine Hoag, Robyn Russel, Mary Ruth Cooke, Elizabeth Hinds, Mr. Honiss.



Varsity Girls Basketball had a somewhat disappointing season with regard to the won-lost record, but a very rewarding one in terms of improvement, learning, and personal pride. Led by Martha Knox, a second team all-conference selection, and Robyn Russell, the team's leading rebounder, the team held up well in the front court. The team was hurt by the large number of pressing defences and overall improvement across the conference, but they learned to cope with the pressures very well as the season progressed. We look forward to a fine year in 1980-81 with both the improvement of our returning varsity players and the incorporation of many fine Junior Varsity players.

J.V. Boys Basketball

J.V. Girls Basketball

Middle School Basketball

With Mr. Rick Michaels as new Coach, the Cross Country team became a viable factor in P.A.C.I.S. Competition. The team, after getting off to a slow start, eventually rose to prominence. Marty Glascock went on to win the state meet for women.

The Varsity Volleyball team ended the 1979 season with a 18-6 record. They placed third in the conference tournament, first in the regional tournament, and third in the state tournament.

All members of the squad were selected to the all-regional team. In addition; Martha Knox was selected to the all conference first team and the all-state team. Nancy Prather was selected to the all-conference second team.

Much of their sucess can be attributed to "team cohesiveness." Each player, in her own special way, contributed in every game.

New Form

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad underwent a unique experience this year as its form changed from the traditional all girl squad to a co-ed one. Faced with depleted ranks, the cheerleaders convinced three males students to join them. The new squad was unveiled at a morning pep rally and it has since cheered at home and away games, including a match at the Charlotte Coliseum and the PACIS tournament.

I missed the sunset today,
And blue ink
Has stained the murky sky.
Cool white air
Streaks the trees.
A slow, soft piano
Whines from the dark.
My chair creaks back and forth.
The crickets sing
My rhythm.

I sat in the living room in the old rose-printed armchair, my book lying closed on my lap, my palms damp in the summer heat. The house was perfectly still now; I could hear nothing but the slight buzzing of a fly at the window. "Good", I thought, "She's asleep now." . . .

Writer in Residence

In December of 1979, Ms. Sylvia Wilkinson again visited Greensboro Day School as a writer in residence. Ms. Wilkinson returned after a very successful visit in 1977 to once again talk to classes informally about her experiences as a writer about writing itself. She also gave a public reading of her stories to members of the school community. In addition, she reviewed the literary works of students and even some parents. Ms. Wilkinson has enjoyed tremendous success herself as a writer with such books as Cale, The Stainless Steel Carrot and Shadow of the Mountain.

Farewell Address to the Prowler

I love to do the yearbook.
It makes me feel as good.
I love to do exactly as
the editor says I should.
I love the yearbook very much.
I seldom miss a day.
I even love the men in white
who are TAKING ME AWAY!

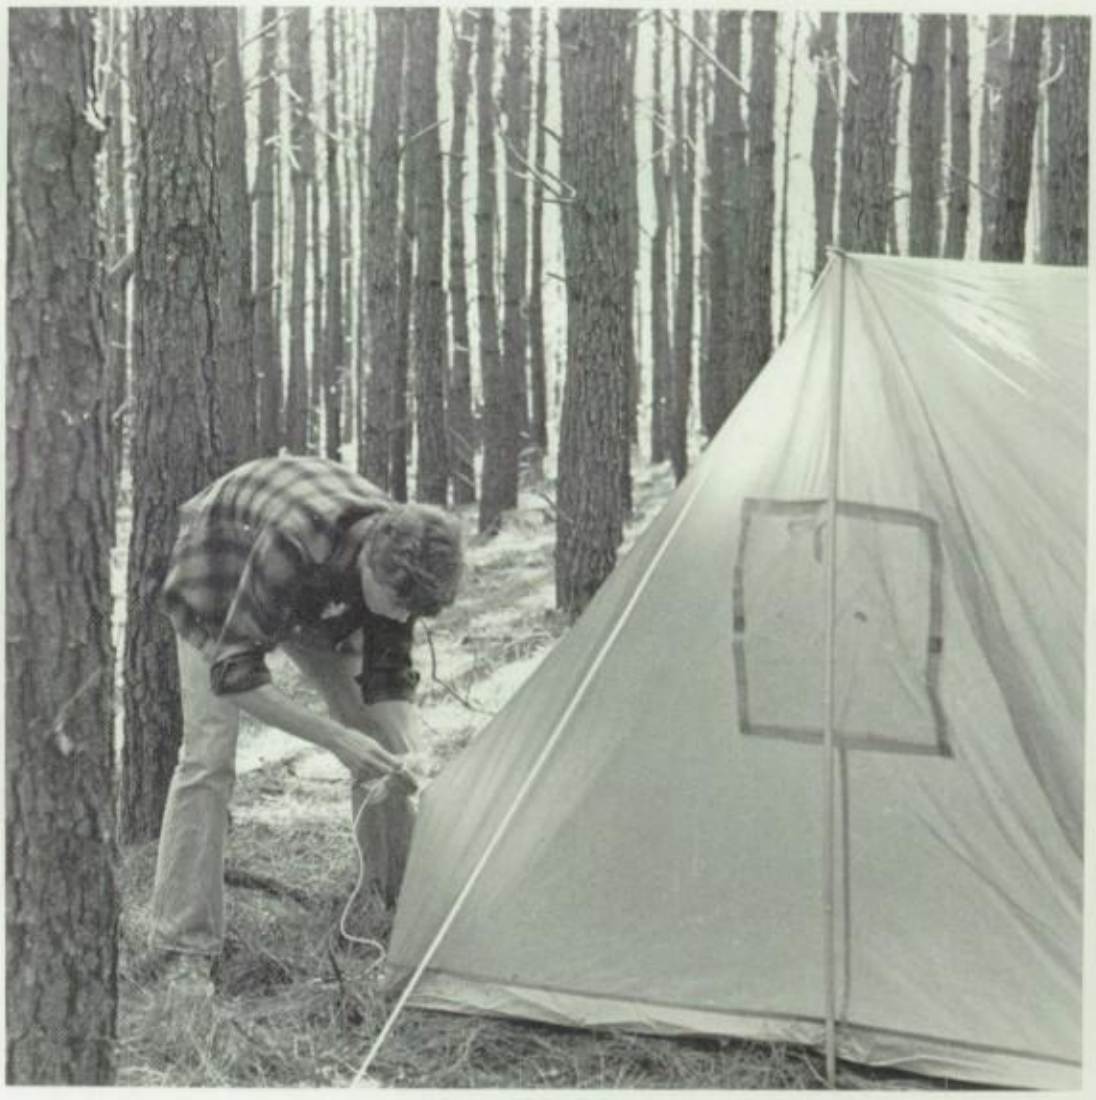
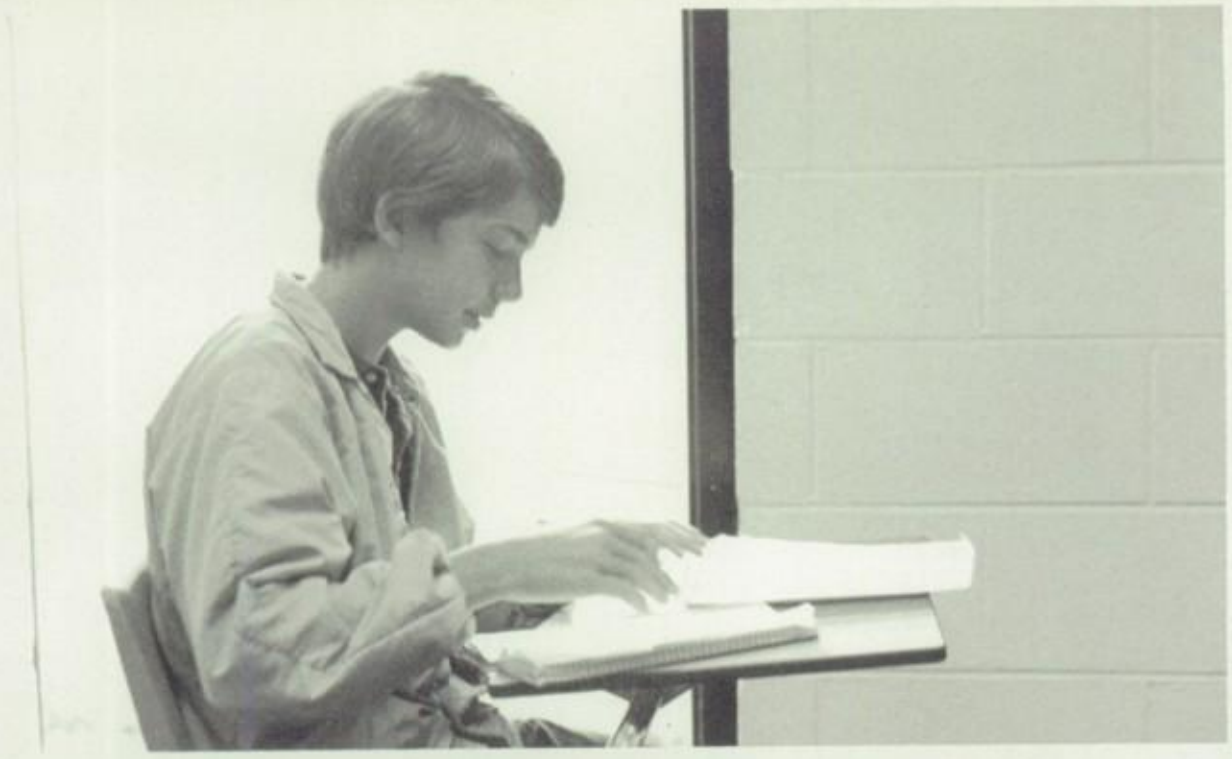
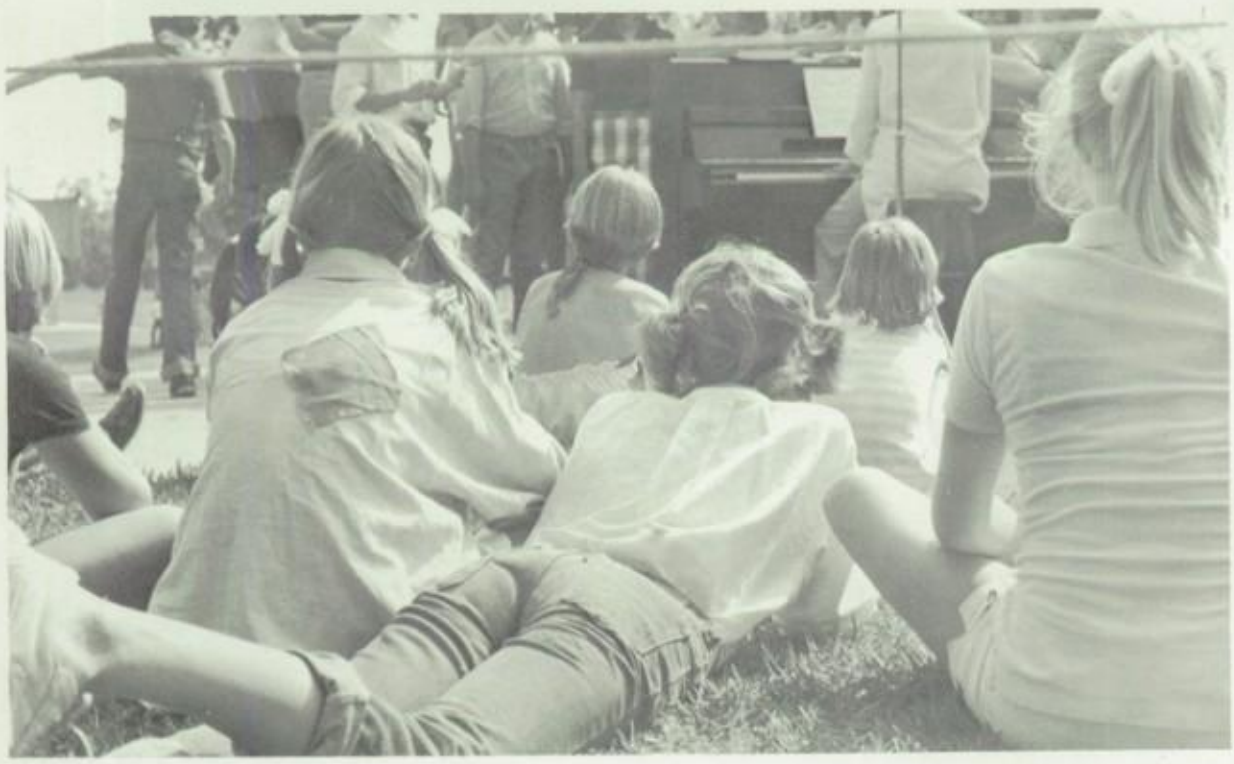
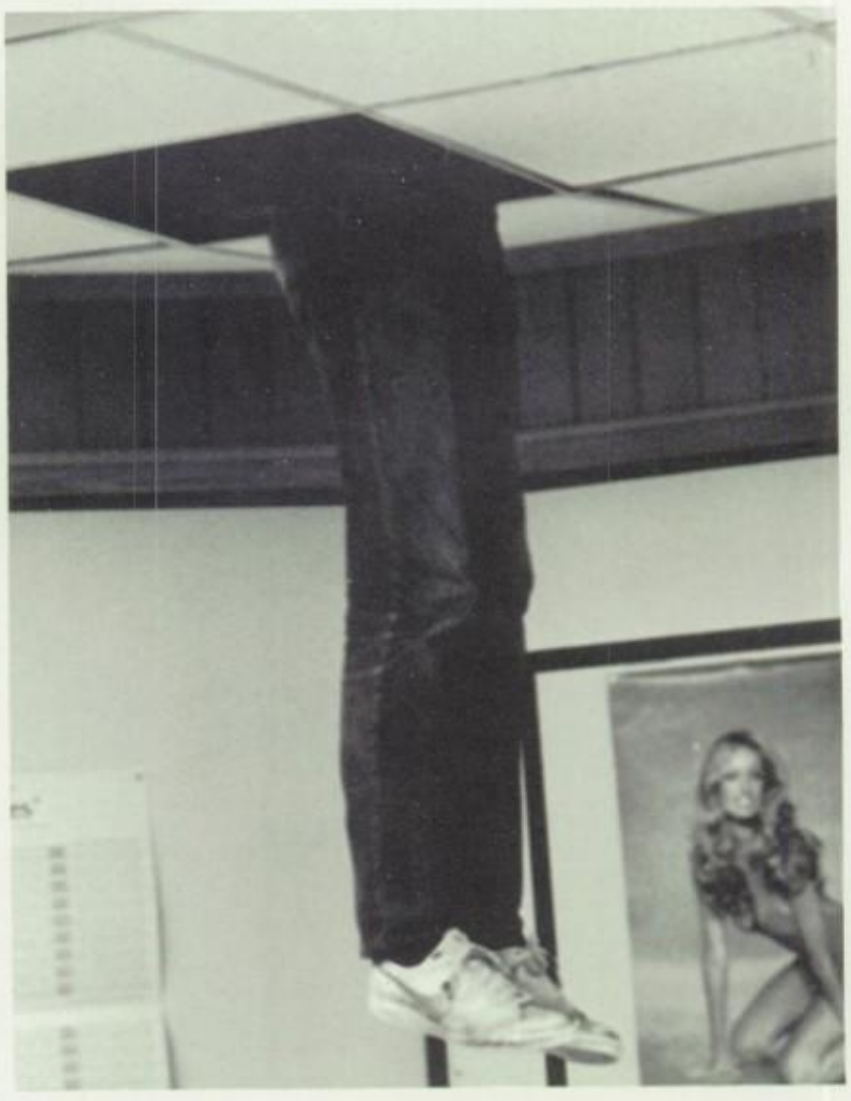
Good Bye and Good Luck

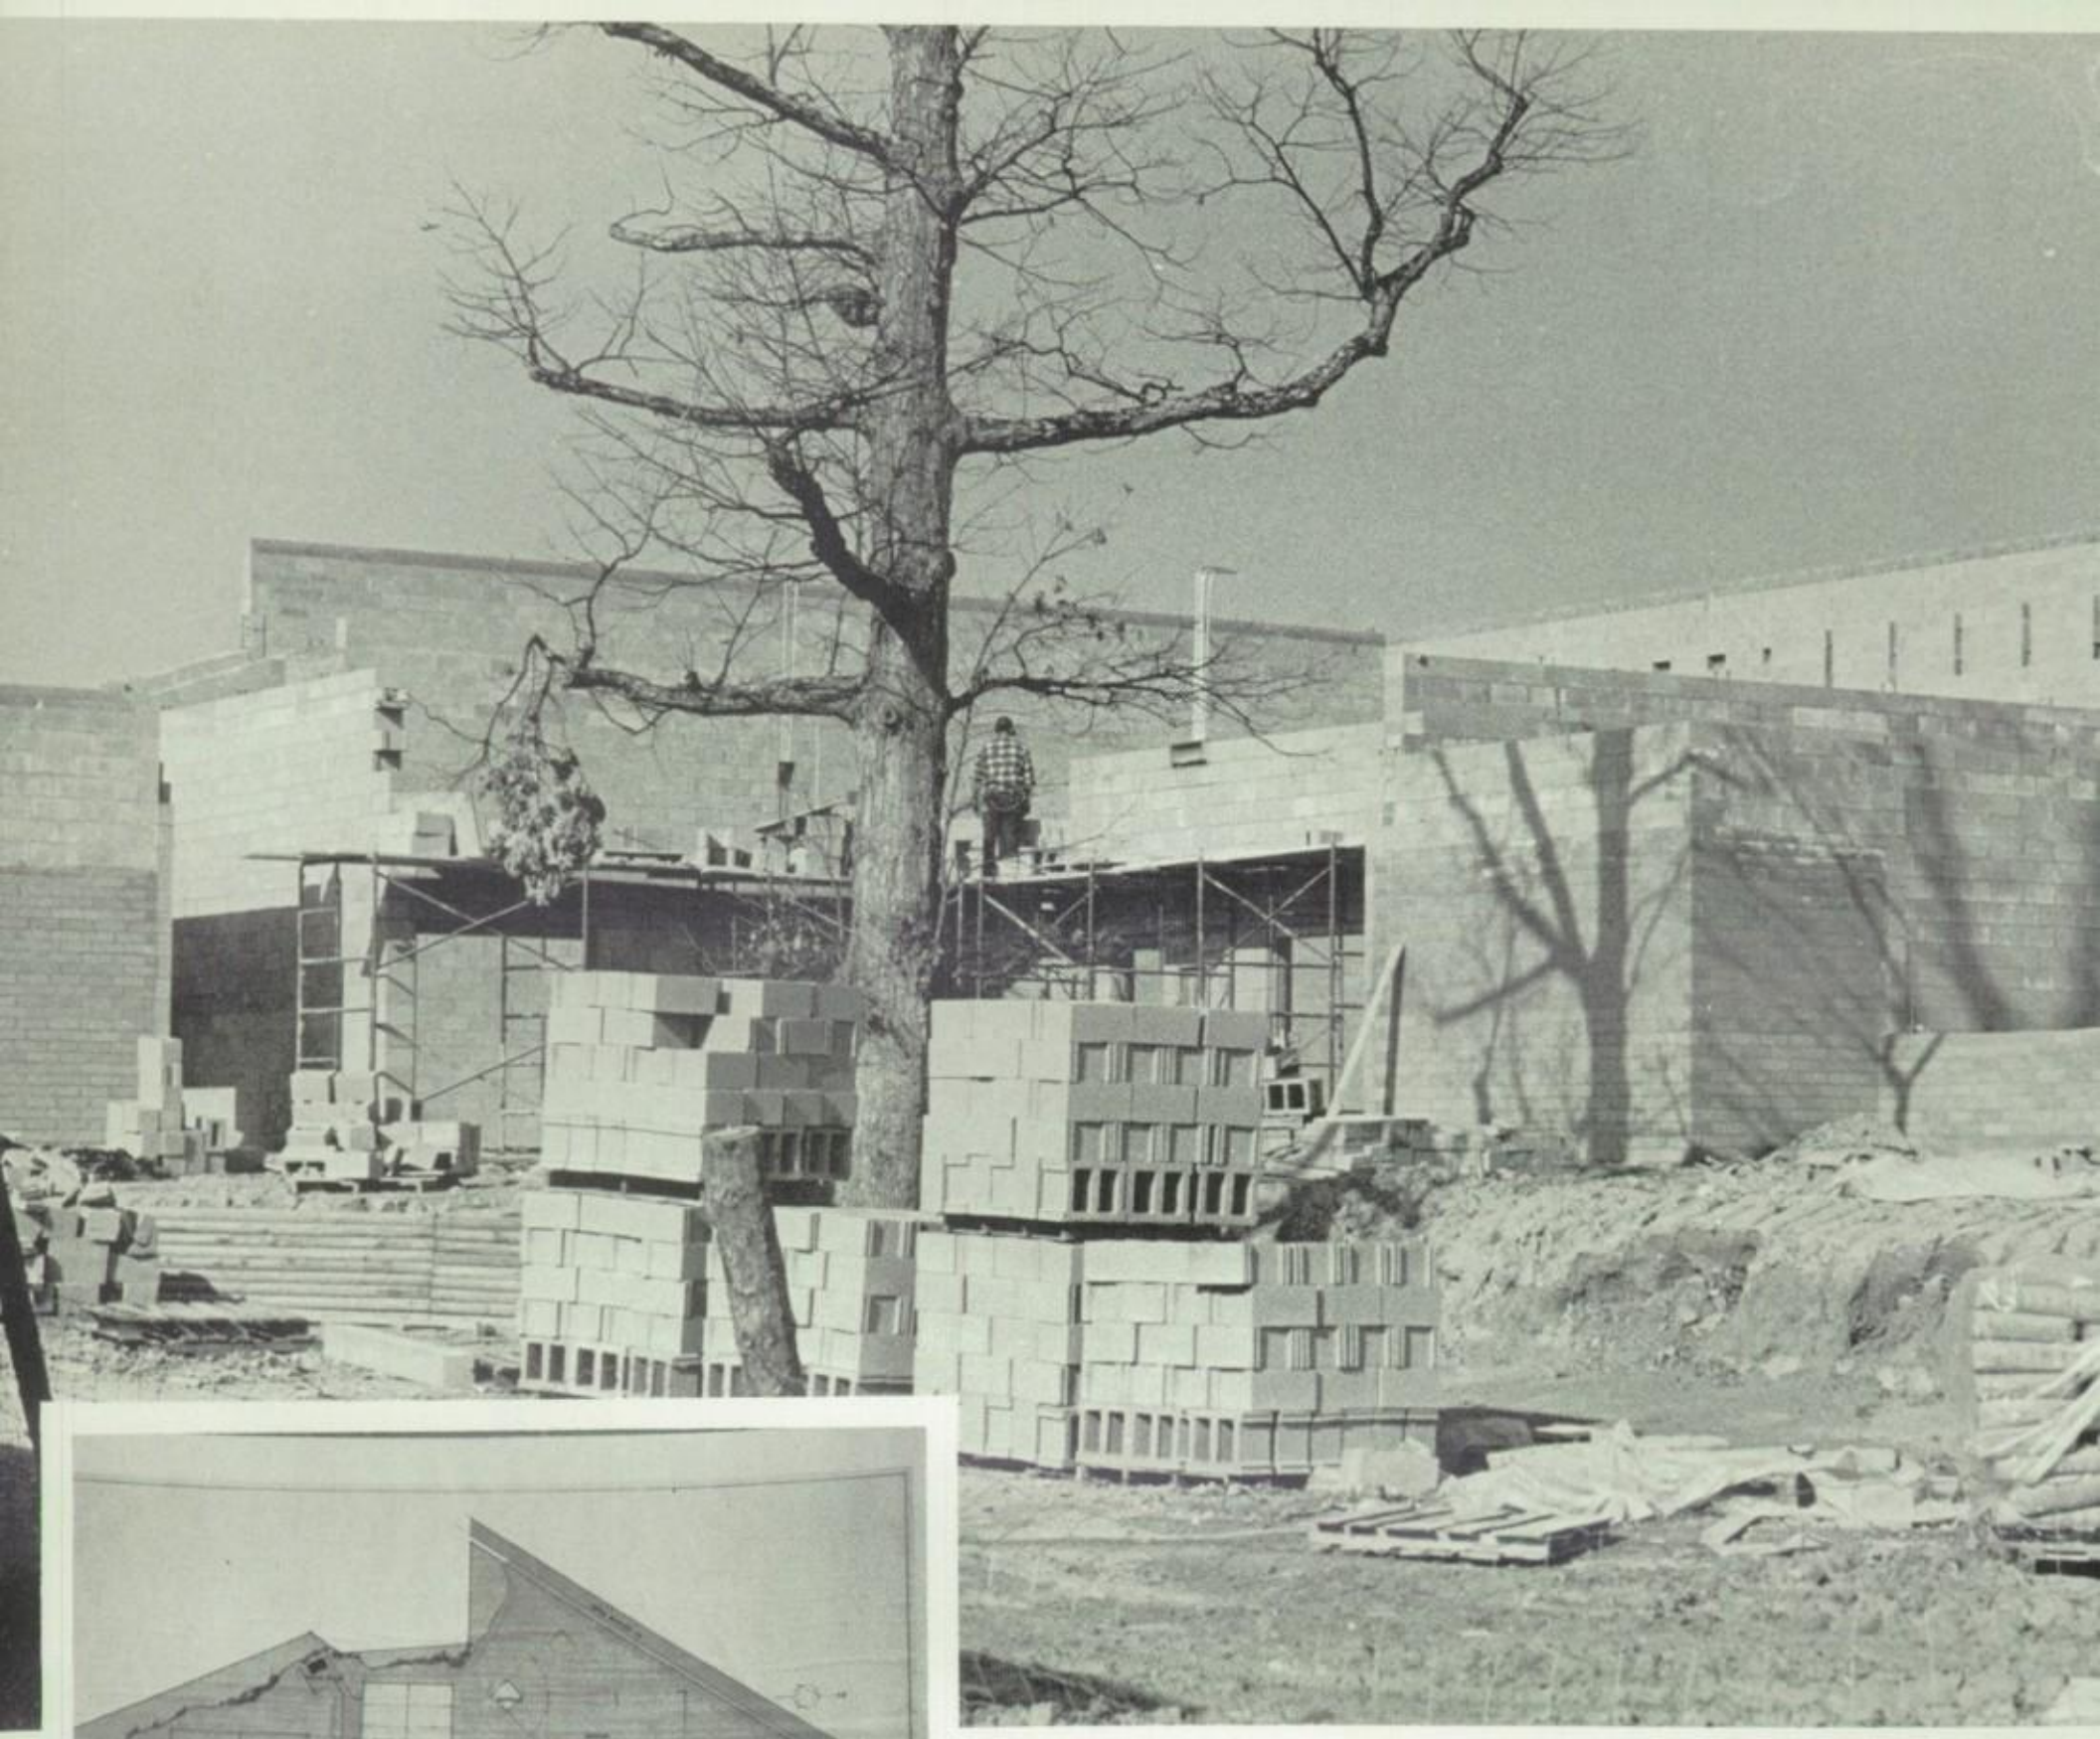
As the knight sang the last words of the ballad, he gathered up the reins, and turned his horse's head along the road by which they had come. "You've only a few yards to go," he said, "down the hill and over that little brook, and then you'll be a queen — But you'll stay and see me off first?' he added as Alice turned with an eager look in the direction to which he pointed. "I shan't be long. You'll wait and wave your handkerchief when I get to that turn in the road! I think it will encourage me you see."

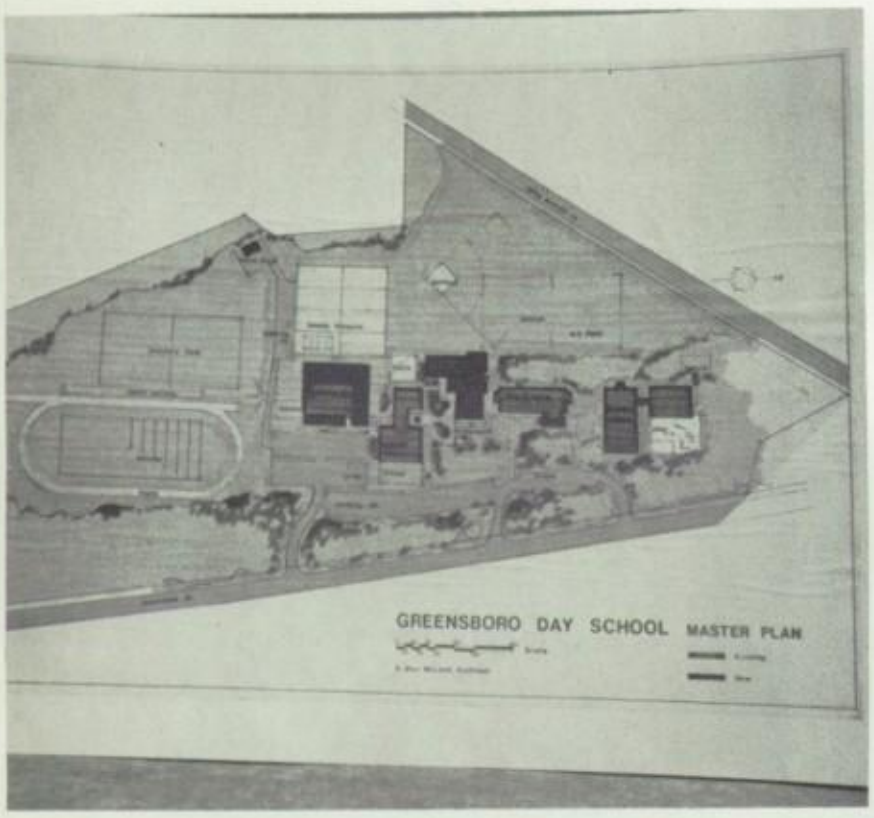








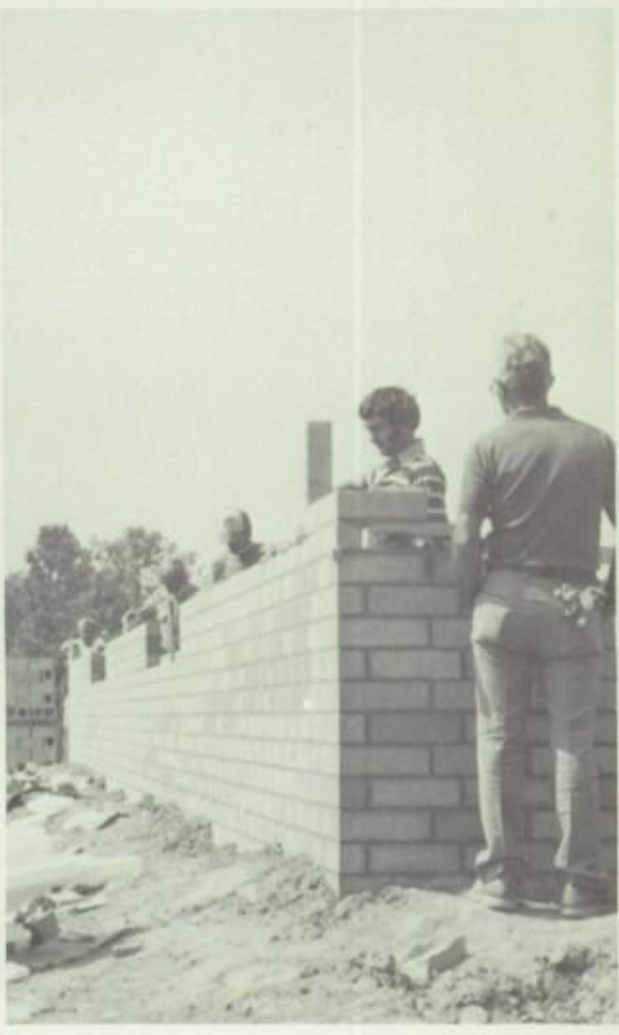


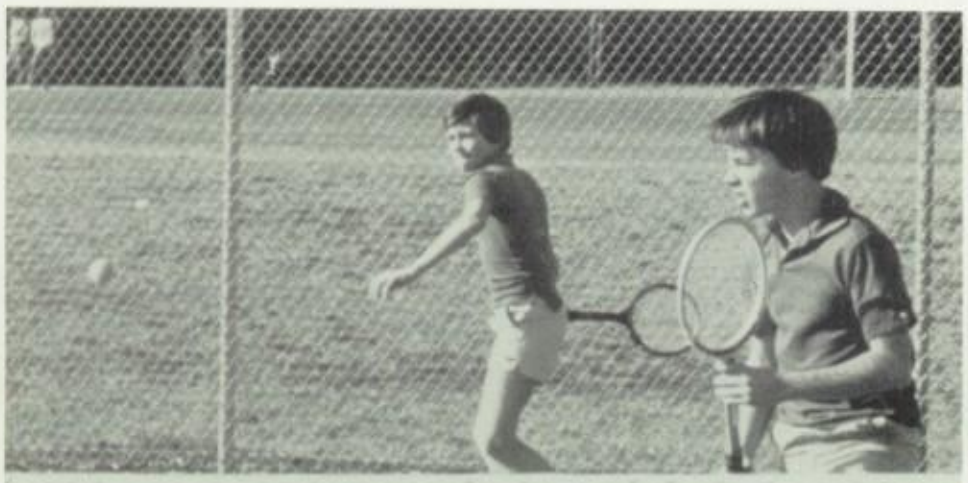


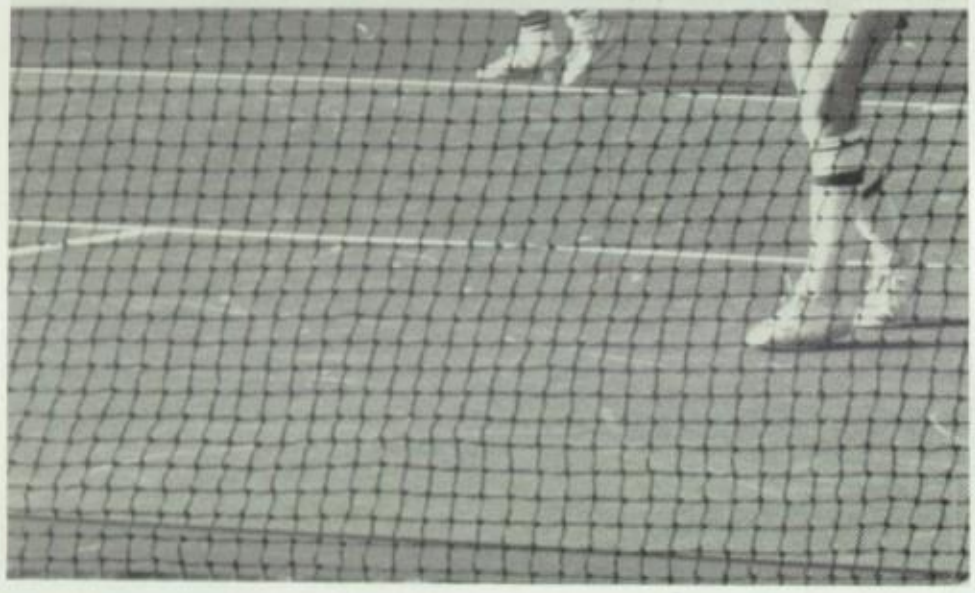
GREENSBORO DAY SCHOOL MASTER PLAN

Of course I'll wait," said Alice: "and thank you very much for coming so far — and for the song — I liked it very much."

"I hope so," the Knight said doubtfully: "but you didn't cry so much as I that you would."







So they shook hands, and then the Knight rode slowly away into the forest. "It won't take long to see him off, I expect," Alice said to herself, as she stood watching him. "There he goes! Right on his head as usual! However, he gets on again pretty easily — that comes of having so many things hung around the horse —" So she went on talking to herself, as she watched the horse walking leisurely along the road, and the Knight tumbling off, first one side and then the other. After the fourth or fifth tumble he reached the turn, and then she waved her handkerchief to him, and waited till he was out of sight.

"I hope it encouraged him," she said, as she turned to run down the hill: "and now for the last brook, and to be a Queen! How grand it sounds!" A very few steps brought her to the edge of the brook. "The eighth square at last!" she cried as she bounded across, and threw herself down to rest on a lawn as soft as moss, with little flower-beds dotted about it here and there. "Oh, how glad I am to get here! And what is this on my head?" she exclaimed in a tone of dismay, as she put her hands up to something very heavy, that fitted tight all around her head.

"But how can it have got there without my knowing it?" she said to herself, as she lifted it off, and set it on her lap to make out what it could possibly be.

It was a golden crown.
